REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN.

February 1, 1922.

To the Town Clerk:

The following report of the Hamilton Smith Library is submitted for the year ending January 31, 1922.

Again we may point to increased use of the library and its books both within and without the library building, the figures for which are given below. We have class-room libraries in each school-room in the town of Durham, including the schools at Durham Point and Packers Falls. In the past two months there has been a home circulation of 312 books from the libraries in the village school alone. One of our greatest needs is for adequate funds to purchase new juvenile books and supplementary readers for these class-room libraries.

The one hundred dollars appropriated by the town has been spent for 88 volumes, including fiction, biography, travel and juveniles. It is worthy of note that we purchased two copies each of "Main Street," by Sinclair Lewis, and "If Winter Comes," by Hutchinson, and that there is still a waiting list for these volumes.

Commencing with September 1st of 1921 we established a reserve card system by which anyone may have any book in the library, fiction or non-fiction, reserved for him or her if the book is out at the time of application, by paying one cent for the postal card notice to be sent to the applicant on the return of the book to the library. This insures securing the desired book in order of application.

From the Simpson legacy of the Durham Library Association we received 89 books purchased for $127.85 this being the smallest number from that source in several years. On November 1st, 1921, we also received $100 from the general funds of the Durham Library Association, of which we have spent $50 for 27 volumes, leaving a balance on hand of $50.

The regular Saturday morning story hour for the children of Durham has been continued as during the former year. Since the first of September the Department of Education of the College has co-operated in the work by furnishing the story-tellers. The regular program was varied last summer with music and games and on other occasions since then games have been interspersed with the stories.

The following figures indicate the additions to the library and the circulation for the year ending January 31, 1922:

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

February 1, 1922.

To the Board of Education:

Four weeks in the field as superintendent has allowed time for only a brief survey of the conditions and needs of the schools.

Condition of the Schools.

So far as I can judge at this time, I find that the schools have been well provided for and well conducted this year. The work done is a credit to the town of Durham and would be a credit to any town or city. Ideals of study, industry, right living and good citizenship are being fostered in the minds of the boys and girls. A fine spirit prevails in the village school. The boys and girls are worthy of the best the town can provide in the way of educational opportunities.

Enrichment of Courses.

To make education worth while is the leading tendency. Useless studies are being done away with. And even in the fundamental subjects like Arithmetic and English, obsolete and impractical topics are being eliminated. Pupils and parents want knowledge and training from the schools that is of some use now and hereafter. Along this line our high school should have more pupils taking commercial subjects. More courses should be offered. Manual training, which is universally accepted as a most valuable form of training both for the high school and for the upper grades, is only just begun in our high school. In this subject there should be more pupils, more equipment and longer courses.

Lines of Progress.

Some of the other lines along which we are working for improvement are better equipment for primary work, more reading and more reading material for the lower grades, helps for teachers and teachers' meetings for conference and instruction. The junior high school has become too large for two teachers, especially if additional courses are put in the program. Instead of nine classes a day for two teachers the program should provide six or seven a day for three teachers. As the approach to the school is used daily by one hundred thirty citizens, I hope you can persuade the town to provide a way of approach that is not impassable in wet weather.

Permanent Teachers.

To have good schools a town has to buy and pay for good instructional ability. Up to a certain limit a teacher is worth more to a town every year that she teaches. To reach the mind of a child so as to mould and develop it, the teacher should know the child and its parents, should know the home life and the community, should understand the problems of her school, and should be familiar with the progress the pupils had made in their studies. All this valuable knowledge, all the growth from supervision, all the development that comes from co-operating with teachers and parents is lost if you lose the teacher. By changing teachers every year a town loses far more than it would have to pay to retain good teachers.

Attendance Record.

School	No. of Pupils	No. of Tardinesses	Per cent of Attendance
Center, I and II	28	34	86
Center, III and IV	26	14	93
Center, V and VI	25	12	95
Junior High School	51	15	96
Packers Falls	15	5	93
Durham Point	7	32	91

Perfect in attendance, 1920-1921, Albert Batchelder, Pauline Ellison, Lawrence McHale, Adeline Tecce, Hattie Magoon.

Durham is fortunate in having a corps of teachers who are working for the welfare of the pupils and in having board members who are interested in the progress of the schools. I appreciate very highly the cordial co-operation of the school board and the hearty welcome to Durham given me by the parents I have met.

Respectfully submitted,

O. R. McCoy.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

Schools closed in June fully up to standard and in a manner the board feels satisfactory to the district. For the year 1922-23 the board recommends an additional full time teacher for the Junior High and has provided for same in its proposed budget.

J. O. Wellman resigned as superintendent September 1st. Mr. J. R. Smith, substitute superintendent, filled the position until the selection of O. R. McCoy, of New London, Connecticut, who assumed the duties of the position January 1st. Mr. McCoy is a practical and able schoolman. We refer you to his report for further information regarding condition of schools at present time.

Following is list of teachers for current school year with salaries they receive:
